

WHAT MAKES AN AUSTRALIAN SPORTING MOMENT GREAT?

Usually, it is the media covering it. The Kennedy Foundation and Telum Media will host an all-Australian panel of sports journalists Mark Robinson, Catherine Murphy, Abbey Holmes and Kate Allman. A networking opportunity for media professionals in Melbourne - join us for drinks and debate at our first event of the year in Australia's sporting capital.

Thursday April 20th, 6pm at the Wheeler Centre
-State Library Victoria - $22

MOTORISTS LOVE THE KENNEDY'S

Proud to announce the NRMA has re-joined us as Foundation Sponsor. It's great that such a community minded organisation shares our values of excellence and community benefit.

THOMSON GEER
LAWYERS

SO DO LAWYERS AND SBS/NITV!

We'd like to welcome Thomson Geer Lawyers and SBS/NITV aboard as two new sponsors of the Kennedy Awards.

Thomson Geer is one of Australia's largest corporate law firms with also one of the largest media departments. Thomson Geer said the sponsorship reinforces, "the firm's commitment to supporting and defending Australian journalists and the critical work they do." A special shout out to SBS and NITV, mainstays of our media landscape and long time supporters of the Kennedys. SBS Director of News and Current Affairs, Mandi Wicks, said, "We are delighted to partner with the Kennedy Foundation in sponsoring this award, one of the most purposeful in Australian Journalism."

MORE AWARDS FOR YOU

This year's Kennedy Awards will have two new categories, 'The Sean Flannery Award for Outstanding On the Road Radio Reporting' that will reward the best in immediacy and on the spot live reporting. It's one of radio's greatest attributes and we look forward to some riveting entries. Our second new category will be for Student Journalist of the Year awarding the best in student journalism. This award is to encourage our young and brightest to see the rewards of a media career, the work and the outcome.
